Independently Published, United States, 2019. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English. Brand new Book. The Azawakh is a breed of sighthound that originates from Africa. The breed was mainly developed by the nomads of the Sahara desert and in the countries Mali, Niger, Burkina Faso and southern Algeria. The Azawakh was originally developed to be a guard dog as well as having the ability to spot and hunt large and fast prey, such as gazelles and desert hares. The Azawakh is highly athletic and energetic due to match its original purpose and can achieve running speeds of up to 40 miles per hour! Unlike most sighthounds, the Azawakh is a pack hunter. They chase their prey as a pack and 'bump' the preys hindquarters until it reaches the point of exhaustion. The breed is also known to guard as a pack. If a single Azawakh senses danger they will bark and alert the rest of the pack, who will group around the alpha dog and either scare off or attack the predator or source of danger. The Azawakh is an incredibly hardy animal: it has incredibly high physical endurance and can happily run in heats of over 100 degrees Fahrenheit (which would kill a greyhound)! However the Azawakh is known to become whiney and unhappy in cold and wet climates, and it is therefore not recommended to own a Azawakh in a country that is not hot for the majority of the year. The breed is known to create a strong bond with their owners but as still able to function independently due to their high levels of intelligence. The Azawakh is also known to be affectionate, loving and loyal. The breed is known to be good around small children as they have traditionally always served the nomads of the Sahara...
